

1962-63 H.M. COWAN TILES

These 6" x 6" tiles with cork backing were originally fired in England and were screened and transformed into hockey tiles in Hamilton by Screenart. The artist name H.M. Cowan is found on each tile. Unfortunately, Cowan did not have permission for the photos from the NHL so the tiles were supposed to be destroyed and not to be sold at retail. However, many did go into circulation and survived. The complete set consists of 104 different players from the original six teams and 19 different Montreal Canadiens tiles.
